

[May 12, 2006]

Dr. Jürgen Unützer was honored in March with the American Association of Geriatric Psychiatry 2006 Distinguished Scientist Award. This award honors outstanding contributions to the field of geriatric psychiatry research. Dr. Unützer was recognized by the AAGP largely for his work developing, testing and disseminating the IMPACT model of depression treatment, an evidence-based depression care model twice as effective as usual care.

